

THE VOLT CHORAL INSTITUTE

provides intensive training and performance opportunities for high school students over the course of one concentrated, enjoyable weekend. Now going into its fifteenth season, the Choral Institute offers two sessions: one in September 2016 for SATB choirs, and one in January 2017 for treble choirs.

Singers from VOLT -- the award-winning professional choir led by Artistic Director Robert Geary -- serve as the resident choir and faculty. Students have the opportunity to work closely with these outstanding professional singers. Together with Maestro Geary and the high schools' choir conductors, Volti's singers lead rehearsals, give voice classes and direct seminars designed to challenge and inspire each student. Each choir performs for the others and receives constructive criticism and helpful advice from the Volti singers.

In each session, we gather together three to five advanced high school choirs in a musically-intensive, content-rich weekend that engages high school choirs with young professional singers and exposes them to a wide variety of music. Both the student singers and the high school conductors enjoy and derive enormous value from the stimulating, supportive and collegial environment of the Choral Institute. This year, the fall session will feature an exciting young composer-in-residence, LJ White, who will write a new piece especially for the participating choruses.

During the Institute weekend, students rehearse side by side with the professional musicians, and ultimately perform the music they've learned for an open audience -- including parents and friends! -- at the camp in Occidental.

Volti performs throughout the Bay Area and is committed to commissioning and performing new choral music. All of Volti's musicians have extensive training in music, including vocal and instrumental performance, vocal pedagogy, conducting and musicology.

He also founded the Golden Gate International Children's and Youth Choral Festival, and he serves as Artistic Director for the San Francisco Choral Society. Geary was named Music Educator of the Year in 2002 by KDFC. He has received international conducting awards, the Lois B.
